

Course: GRI Standards Certified Training

The Governance Group is Norway's only GRI Certified training partner and provides comprehensive sustainability reporting training in the understanding and application of the GRI Standards.

ABOUT THE GRI STANDARDS

Stakeholder expectations for disclosure on environment, social and governance (ESG) performance are increasing. At the same time new ESG initiatives and frameworks continue to emerge and evolve, making it dynamic and difficult for companies and investors to follow. The Governance Group helps its clients address material ESG issues using internationally-recognized ESG standards. These standards are credible, they ensure transparency and provide a platform for effective communication with stakeholders.

The Global Reporting Initiative \(GRI\) Standards are the world's most recognized and widely used sustainability reporting standard. The Governance Group is Norway's only GRI Certified training partner and provides comprehensive sustainability reporting training in the understanding and application of the GRI Standards.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

The 2-day interactive course enables participants to apply the GRI Standards and prepare an effective and compliant sustainability report:

- Course participants are actively engaged in learning activities throughout the training which introduce and test critical sustainability reporting concepts.
- Local best-practice reporting examples are presented and used to explore reporting approaches that work in practice.
- Practical learning exercises undertaken with other participants are designed to share and co-create knowledge.

Course participants who complete the course are certified by the GRI head office in The Netherlands.
